Jul 18, 2022 Version 1.21.0 Hello again, boxers! A new update is on the horizon. This time we worked on the graphical side of our game. You can see the changes in our shop with new, better backgrounds. That's the only beginning of the overhaul, though! We also heard of someone new incoming to our game, some kind of national hero... And we can't say more for now. As always, there are also bug fixes and stability improvements! That's all for today's update, but don't worry, as we will be back with even better news! Game on! Enter the world of Rocky Balboa with this tactically rich boxing simulation. Whether you play as Adonis "Creed" Johnson or design your own pugilist, dazzling graphics and fluid controls immerse you in the action. Swipe and tap to throw uppercuts and dodge body blows, maneuvering a global roster of opponents into position for the knockout. Training minigames upgrade your skills between bouts, but you'll need sharp eyes and quick reflexes to become the best. As you progress through the game and unlock new areas, it can take up to 2 hours to charge one condition (energy). This is extremely frustrating simply because this is intended to get people to pay monthly for unlimited energy. I wouldn't say it's pay to win, but it gets extremely difficult. Having invested about 5 dollars into the game, has made it very enjoyable. However doing so has only leveled me out with the competition. Honestly this game is amazing, addictive, and deserves 5 stars. However that is only the gameplay, controls, and graphics. Alongside the afore mentioned flaws, is that you must spend diamonds or watch an ad to get up. After being knocked down I have tried everything, and yet the only way to get up is through diamonds. Since you can't watch an ad with online fights; you will be forced to spend diamonds. The amount the game offers currency wise is fair. But I can't help but feel the game is money hungry. Which is understandable, but to an extent it can ruin the overall experience. I don't write reviews ever, but the flaws I mentioned, I felt should be addressed. I notice something about this game when you play against the country you put in the game but and regular mode is cool. But you need to play and put fighters in every inch of call country's. How come Africa or Russia and Canada plus some parts of South America I didn't see that on the game mode. Around the world every country box or fights and u should update that. Tournament mode should be if I'm online I'm facing an opponent real time. If I'm not online my character shouldn't be not fighting and even if some one climbs the rank they shouldn't be fighting my character "off line" which is wack. I got more losses from matches I didn't fight in tournament matches. You also need to add more matches facing the computer because it's wack. Waiting. Also how come my training stops at 145hp tops and don't go more than that. I got so much XP points and it's useless that I can't use it on my character because I'm at the max 145xp ..... I play this game for a while but I'm disappointed on your lack creative ness and how to improved the game which u knew about. You like people spending money on diamonds and coins just to improve the status of the Character HOW about you improve the game. Theirs a lot maybe u don't see that I see and many others that this games need improvements on all angles Hello! Thank you for your opinion. Such feedback is always a booster for us to keep on going forward and develop more fascinating updates. It's of utmost importance for us to know if our players enjoy the game - thank you for that.
